Energy Efficiency in Light-Frame Wood Construction. This report presents information on the design and construction of energy-efficient, light-frame wood houses. It stresses the role of housing design and landscape planning, as well as orientation of the home, placement and design of windows, general configuration of the house for minimal heat loss in winter, and architectural strategies for comfort through natural use of sun and shade. In addition, it provides technical information on the thermal properties of construction materials and on the basic engineering design principles applicable to light-frame wood structures. 1979. 58 p. il.

NASA Tech House. Tech House (Technology Utilization House) consumes only about one-third the electricity and one-half the water of comparably-sized homes. It incorporates solar heating, central air conditioning, a super-efficient fireplace, roll-down thermal shutters, a complete interior and exterior intruder alarm system, fire resistant construction, a waste water recycler, emergency power-failure lights, three bedrooms, two bathrooms, and a garage into a design that can be built for approximately $50,000 (in 1977 dollars). NASA constructed and is currently evaluating Tech House in order to demonstrate the extent to which some of the space program's many scientific breakthroughs can aid in the construction of more efficient, more comfortable, safer, and less expensive homes in the near future. This booklet discusses and illustrates the many innovative features of Tech House in non-technical language and examines the promise they hold for all homeowners, present and prospective. 1977. 19 p. il.

GENERAL INFORMATION

There is no free distribution by this Office. Regulations require remittance in advance of shipment of publications, either by check or money order payable to the Superintendent of Documents. Do not send currency (bills or coins) or postage stamps.

With the exception of specially priced publications, a discount of 25 percent is allowed on quantity purchases (100 or more copies of a single publication). The same discount applies to orders from a bookdealer (any quantity) when the publications are mailed to the dealer's normal place of business. No discount will be allowed when publications are mailed to a third party (unless in quantities of 100 or more per title).

NON U.S. CUSTOMERS—International mailing regulations require special handling for which we charge an additional 25 percent of the total cost of your order. Remittance is required in advance of shipping by draft on a United States or Canadian Bank, by UNESCO coupons or by International Postal Money Order made payable to the Superintendent of Documents. These orders are mailed via surface mail unless funds are sent to cover airmail postage. Foreign currency or checks will not be accepted. All orders must be in English.

TO ORDER, USE FORM ON REVERSE SIDE. FOLLOW INSTRUCTIONS BELOW

1. Enter your complete name and address, your order number (if any) and date in the proper places at the top of this form.
 Enter stock number, unit of issue*, quantity, title and price of desired publication(s) and total enclosed. There is a $1.00 minimum for mail orders; this is not a surcharge. Enter destination name and address and your order number on mailing label at bottom of form.
2. Mail order form to Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office. Washington, D.C. 20402.
3. If a shipment is incorrect, return the shipping document with your request for adjustment. DO NOT RETURN PUBLICATIONS UNTIL NOTIFIED TO DO SO. All claims must be submitted within one year from date of your order.
